The Bellflower II, a two-story plan with 5 bedrooms, 4.5 baths, a study, and a 2-car garage. This is a big home with the room count to match — nearly 3,800 square feet of the plan's footprint, and the flex spaces built out rather than left standard. Downstairs holds a study and a media room alongside the main living areas; upstairs, three bedrooms sit around a game room. The home is on an oversized interior lot. A solid mahogany front door with wrought iron detail opens the entry. Inside, vaulted ceilings lift the main living space, and the family room centers on a tile fireplace running to the ceiling, finished with a modern box mantel — squared off and clean rather than traditional — with a gas starter so it lights without kindling. Laminate wood floors run through all the living areas, and faux wood blinds and window coverings are already hung on every window. The Deluxe Kitchen carries an upgraded professional-series appliance package, a real step past the standard set, opening to the family room so the cook stays in the room. The primary bath has a super-sized shower, expanded well past the standard footprint. A mud room off the garage catches shoes, bags, and sports gear before any of it reaches the rest of the house. Outdoor living runs front to back with a covered porch and a covered patio, the patio plumbed with a gas stub so the grill connects directly, and an exterior lighting system keeps the elevation lit after dark. Gutters and a full package of energy-saving components come standard, at no added cost, as they do in every build. Come walk the Bellflower II at the Bloomfield Homes model in Meadow Vista.
