An extended covered patio gives this Bayberry plan another place to gather, complementing a two-story layout with 4 bedrooms, 2 full baths, a powder bath, a study and a 2-car garage in Hulen Trails. Set on an interior homesite, the home makes its first impression through an upgraded 8-foot front door with glass and iron detailing. The study sits just off the foyer behind double doors, with space to keep a desk, books or ongoing projects separate from the family room. Laminate flooring continues through the shared living areas, where a corner fireplace combines tile to the ceiling, a cedar mantel and a gas starter. The angled kitchen island faces the family room, giving the cook a view into the conversation. Two pendant lights highlight the workspace in this Deluxe Kitchen, finished with quartz countertops, a gas cooktop and an electric oven. A walk-in pantry keeps groceries organized, while the breakfast area beside the kitchen connects directly to the patio. Add an outdoor table and let dinner linger a little longer. The primary suite is on the main floor, with a bath featuring dual sinks, a soaking tub, separate shower and a walk-in closet. A nearby powder bath serves the shared spaces, and laundry is positioned along the route from the garage. Three secondary bedrooms occupy the upper level with a full bath that separates the dual-sink vanity from the bathing area. The game room adds a second living space at the front of the upper floor, giving games, hobbies or a second television a place of their own.
