Move-In Ready

This Dogwood floor plan from Bloomfield features soft gray cabinets that ground the kitchen, paired with sleek white quartz counters and a pale subway tile backsplash that keeps everything light and crisp. Warm wood floors run through the main spaces, setting off the cool-tone cabinetry and adding a layer of texture. The layout is clean and easy to move through with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, and a private study tucked just off the entry behind double glass doors. A wall of windows pulls light into the family room, which connects naturally to the dining and kitchen area so the whole space feels open without losing definition. The primary suite leans quiet and calm with carpet underfoot, a deep walk-in closet, a five-piece bath with a frameless glass shower, and a built-in window seat that overlooks the backyard. Secondary bedrooms are spaced along their own hallway with a full bath nearby, giving everyone breathing room. Outside, a large covered front porch faces the street while a deep covered patio stretches across the back, both finished in brick with stone accents that tie in to the elevation. A full sprinkler system and gutters are already in place, and the fenced backyard is wide and level with room to shape it however you want. Every space is simple, functional, and finished in a clean, modern palette that makes the whole home feel bright and fresh.
